

An Interview by Jackie McMakin w/ Marjory Bankson

February 10 2008

In a new format for Seekers, Jackie McMakin "interviewed" Marjory Bankson. The questions were aimed at uncovering the journey that Marjory has taken in her life thus far, especially exploring her call to outreach teaching, her time as the president of Faith@Work, and her current transitional phase after retiring as the editor of the F@W magazine.

A fuller transcription of the interview will be posted when available.
