

“Reflection for MLK” by Larry Rawlings

January 15, 2017

Second Sunday after Epiphany

On the anniversary of Martin Luther King’s birth, Larry shared a reflection on King as prophet and servant. He noted that two-thirds of Americans alive today had not been born when King was assassinated in 1968, emphasizing the importance of remembering and celebrating MLK’s life and teaching. The full text is not available.